

Commercial Science & Tech Community Residential Education Healthcare Transport Masterplanning Sustainability

UBER DIGITAL

LONDON

Uber are an international Digital Creative Agency. The London office is located on the first and second floor of a Clerkenwell warehouse building. Uber required a fit out to create a dramatic interior to reflect the creative dynamism of their business.

The design concept centred on creating an entrance that provided a vertical link between the two floors. This was achieved by removing a section of floor to provide a striking double height reception foyer. All the existing finishes in this area were exposed and a new industrial, steel staircase wrapped around the space to link the two floors. This created an impressive reception space and allowed staff and visitors to move between floors without having to use the common staircases. The remainder of the office space was opened up to provide maximum flexibility of use for future expansion.

PROJECT DETAILS

- SCOPE
 560 sqm office fit-out
- ROLE
 Architect, Lead Designer,
 Contract Administrator
- CONTRACTOR
 C Field
- CLIENT
 Uber Digital Ltd
- VALUE
 £300k

KEY ASPECTS

- Major structural changes to an Edwardian building
- Works within Central London high street environment
- Specification of sustainable materials to meet client environmental policies
- Contemporary, industrial aesthetic

